THIRD COMMITTEE

DRAFT INTERNATIONAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS

Recapitulation of amendments to article 10 of the draft declaration (E/800)

(in the chronological order of their submission to the Committee)

Article 10

(Text adopted by the Commission on Human Rights)

No one shall be subjected to unreasonable interference with his privacy, family, home, correspondence or reputation.

Amendments:

Union of Soviet Socialist Republic (E/800)

(Supplement to the text as adopted)

"and everyone is entitled to legal defence against such interference".

Cuba (A/C.3/232)

Break up this article, which is too complex to be clear and amend to read as follows:

(a) Protection of honour

Article No.-

"Every person has a right to the protection of the law against abusive attacks upon his honour and reputation and against unreasonable interference with his private and family life".

(b) Inviolability of the home

Article No.-

"Every person has a right to the inviolability of his home".

(c) Right of correspondence

Article No.-

"Every person has a right to the inviolability and unhampered transmission of his correspondence".

Saudi Arabia (A/C.3/255)

Replace the word "unreasonable" by the word "illegitimate".

Lebanon (A/C.3/260)

Delete the word "unreasonable".

New Zealand (A/C.3/267)

Substitute the word "arbitrary" for the word "unreasonable".

Uruguay (A/C.3/268)

(does not apply to the English text)

Panama (A/C.3/280)

Add to this article the words: person, activities and property,
so that the article reads as follows:

"No one shall be subjected to unreasonable interference with his person, his home, his family, his privacy, his activities, his property, his correspondence or his reputation".
