I. INTRODUCTION

A. The mandate

1. The Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances was the first United Nations human rights thematic mechanism to be established with a universal mandate. The original mandate is derived from Commission on Human Rights resolution 20 (XXXVI) of 29 February 1980. This resolution followed General Assembly resolution 33/173 of 20 December 1978, in which the Assembly expressed concern over reports from various parts of the world relating to enforced disappearances and requested the Commission on Human Rights to consider the question of missing or disappeared persons.
2. The Working Group's mandate was elaborated in General Assembly resolution 47/133 of 18 December 1992, entitled "Declaration on the Protection of All Persons from Enforced Disappearance". The mandate was most recently extended by Commission on Human Rights resolution 2004/40 of 19 April 2004 and Human Rights Council decision 5/101 of 18 June 2007.
3. The Working Group's basic mandate is humanitarian. It serves as a channel of communication between family members of victims of disappearance and Governments. The primary task of the Working Group is to assist families in determining the fate or whereabouts of their family members who are reportedly disappeared.
4. In addition to its basic mandate, the Working Group has also been entrusted, according to Commission resolution 2004/40, with the task of monitoring the progress of States in fulfilling obligations derived from the Declaration.

B. Methods of work

5. During the course of the year, the Working Group completed a process of reviewing its methods of work. The methods of work, as revised on 30 November 2007, are contained in annex I to the present report, and will come into effect as from the eighty-fourth session of the Working Group.

C. The present report

6. The report reflects communications and cases examined by the Working Group during its three sessions in 2007, and covers the period from November 2006 to November 2007.
7. A summary of activities during the reporting period is presented in a table for each country, with a detailed text description of the areas of activity. Where there has been no correspondence or other activity during the period, only the table is provided and a reference is made to a description of cases. Due to space limitations, the section "Summary of the situation prior to the period under review" of every country was not included in this report. The summaries can be found in the 2006 annual report (A/HRC/4/41).
8. In countries where the number of newly reported cases is less than 10, the names of the persons appear in the country section. If the number of newly reported cases is greater than 10, the list of names appears in annex V.

9. The total number of cases transmitted by the Working Group to Governments since the Working Group's inception is 51,763. The number of cases under active consideration that have not yet been clarified or discontinued stands at 41,257 and concerns 78 States. The Working Group has been able to clarify 2,702 cases over the past five years.

10. It is recalled that recent cases of disappearance are the priority of the Working Group. Large volumes of cases submitted to the Working Group many years after the persons disappeared are reviewed by the Working Group and processed by the Secretariat as an ongoing process. With the improved staffing beginning in 2005, the Working Group was able to address the backlog of cases. However, during 2007, the Working Group received more than 1,000 cases, and expects to be able to process them in 2008. The Working Group wishes to thank the Office of the High Commissioner for the continuous support given to the Working Group, and hopes to maintain the adequate level of staffing which it now enjoys.

II. ACTIVITIES OF THE WORKING GROUP ON ENFORCED OR INVOLUNTARY DISAPPEARANCES: NOVEMBER 2006 TO NOVEMBER 2007

A. Meetings

11. During the period under review, the Working Group held three sessions in Geneva. The eighty-first session was held from 15 to 21 March 2007, the eighty-second session from 25 to 29 June 2007 and the eighty-third session from 21 to 30 November 2007.

12. The Chairman-Rapporteur of the Working Group is Mr. Santiago Corcuera. The other members are Mr. J. 'Bayo Adekanye, Mr. Saied Rajaie Khorasani, Mr. Darko Göttlicher, and Mr. Stephen J. Toope.

13. In June 2007, Mr. Corcuera attended the fourteenth annual meeting of special rapporteurs, representatives, independent experts and chairpersons of working groups of the Human Rights Council. In April 2007, he participated in a workshop on the follow-up to the Ombudsman Offices' implementation of the recommendations formulated by international human rights mechanisms. The workshop took place in Cartagena de Indias, Colombia. In May 2007, Mr. Corcuera participated in a Workshop on the International Convention for the Protection of all Persons from Enforced Disappearance, which took place in Paris. In October 2007, he participated in a regional workshop on the problem of enforced disappearances held in Lima, and organized by the International Committee of the Red Cross.

14. During the period under review, the Working Group met formally with representatives of the Governments of France, Iraq, Japan, Mexico and Thailand. The Working Group also met with representatives of human rights non-governmental organizations, associations of relatives of disappeared persons and families or witnesses directly concerned with reports of enforced disappearance.

15. During the fourth session of the Human Rights Council, the Working Group met with representatives of the Government of Sri Lanka. The Chairman-Rapporteur, Mr. Corcuera, also met with representatives of the Governments of Colombia and Argentina.

B. Communications

16. During the period under review, the Working Group transmitted 629 new cases of enforced disappearances to the Governments of Algeria, Bahrain, Chad, China, Colombia, the Democratic Republic of the Congo, Equatorial Guinea, Ethiopia, Gambia, Honduras, India, Indonesia, the Islamic Republic of Iran, Japan, Lebanon, the Libyan Arab Jamahiriya, Mexico, Myanmar, Nepal, Pakistan, Philippines, the Russian Federation, Saudi Arabia, Sri Lanka, Sudan, the Syrian Arab Republic, Thailand and United Arab Emirates.

17. The Working Group sent 65 of these cases under the urgent action procedure to the Governments of Algeria, Bahrain, China, Colombia, Democratic Republic of Congo, Ethiopia, Honduras, the Islamic Republic of Iran, the Libyan Arab Jamahiriya, Mexico, Myanmar, Pakistan, Philippines, the Russian Federation, Rwanda and Sri Lanka.

18. Of the newly reported cases, 84 allegedly occurred during the reporting period and relate to Algeria, Bahrain, China, Colombia, Ethiopia, the Islamic Republic of Iran, the Libyan Arab Jamahiriya, Mexico, Myanmar, Nepal, Pakistan, Philippines, the Russian Federation and Sri Lanka.

19. During the same period, the Working Group clarified 224 cases in the following countries: Algeria, Argentina, Bahrain, Honduras, India, Morocco, Nepal, Nigeria, Pakistan, Philippines, the Russian Federation, Sri Lanka, Sudan, the Syrian Arab Republic, Turkey and Yemen. Of those, 213 cases were clarified based on information provided by the Government and 12 cases were clarified based on information provided by sources.

20. During the reporting period, the Working Group sent two prompt intervention communications addressing harassment of and threats to human rights defenders and relatives of disappeared persons in Algeria and India.

21. The Working Group also sent 10 general allegations to the Governments of Colombia, Indonesia, Mexico, Montenegro, Nepal, Pakistan, Philippines, the Russian Federation, Sri Lanka and the United States of America. During its eighty-third session, the Working Group reviewed a number of general allegations from different regions of the world. The Working Group decided to transmit them to the respective Governments, and invites them to comment thereon if they so wish. Summaries of the general allegations considered during the eighty-third session, including government responses, if any, will be included in the 2008 annual report.

C. Country visits

22. At the invitation of the Government, Working Group members Santiago Corcuera and Darko Göttlicher, with staff from the Secretariat, visited Honduras from 31 January to 2 February and El Salvador from 5 to 7 February 2007. The missions took place as part of a regional visit to Central American countries with significant numbers of outstanding cases.

23. The reports of the country visits to Honduras and El Salvador are contained in addenda to this report. Among other recommendations, the Working Group recommended to the Government of Honduras that the legislature enact a law defining enforced disappearances as an autonomous crime in the Honduran Penal Code. With respect to El Salvador, the Working Group requested that the Salvadorian Legislative Assembly should modify the 1993 Amnesty Law, in accordance with the Working Group's general observation on article 18 of the Declaration.

24. The Working Group has requested visits to Algeria, Argentina, Indonesia, the Islamic Republic of Iran, Nepal, Nicaragua, the Philippines, the Russian Federation, Sri Lanka, the Sudan and Timor-Leste. The scheduled visit to Argentina in March 2007 was postponed at the request of the Working Group, as the dates coincided with the presentation of the Working Group's Annual Report to the Human Rights Council. The Working Group looks forward to a possible visit in 2008. The Governments of Sri Lanka, the Russian Federation and Indonesia stated that it would not be possible to schedule a visit by the Working Group in 2007 because other special rapporteurs would be visiting the country at that time. The Government of the Russian Federation indicated that it continues to be in agreement in principle with the visit, and asked that the time for the visit be reviewed after the completion of the process of assessment of the mandates of special procedures by the Human Rights Council. The Government of Indonesia stated that greater benefit would be derived if the Working Group visited at a later date. The Government of the Islamic Republic of Iran agreed to a visit by the Working Group in 2005, which was delayed at the request of the Government. The Working Group deeply regrets that Algeria has not responded to repeated requests by the Working Group to visit the country. The Working Group invites the Governments of Nepal, Nicaragua, the Philippines, the Sudan and Timor-Leste to respond to repeated interest expressed by the Working Group to visit these countries.

D. Statements and general comments

25. To commemorate the International Day of the Disappeared on 30 August, the Working Group issued a press release on 29 August 2007 to commemorate all victims of enforced disappearances. In the press release, the Working Group expressed its concern over the increasing number of cases of enforced disappearances around the world and reiterated its solidarity with the victims of enforced disappearances and human rights defenders helping the victims.

1. General comment on the definition of enforced disappearance

26. As a result of the development of international law, especially with respect to the definition of enforced disappearance, the Working Group decided to draft a general comment to provide a construction of the definition of enforced disappearance that is most conducive to the protection of all persons from enforced disappearance. In March 2007, during its eighty-first session, the Working Group adopted the following general comment:

“General comment on the definition of enforced disappearance

“Preamble

“The Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances has referred in the past to the scope of the definition of enforced disappearance under the Declaration on the Protection of All Persons from Enforced Disappearance (hereinafter the ‘Declaration’), particularly in its general comment on article 4 of the Declaration.

“According to the Declaration, enforced disappearances occur when persons are arrested, detained or abducted against their will or otherwise deprived of their liberty by officials of different branches or levels of government or by organized groups or private individuals acting on behalf of, or with the support, direct or indirect, consent or acquiescence of the Government, followed by a refusal to disclose the fate or whereabouts of the persons concerned or a refusal to acknowledge the deprivation of their liberty, which places such persons outside the protection of the law.

“The Working Group has followed closely the development of international human rights law on this matter, especially with respect to the definitions of enforced disappearance contained in the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court (hereinafter the ‘Rome Statute’) and in the recently adopted and not yet in force International Convention for the Protection of All Persons from Enforced Disappearance (hereafter identified as the ‘International Convention’), as well as in the Inter-American Convention on Forced Disappearance of Persons (hereinafter referred to as the ‘Inter-American Convention’).

“The Working Group takes note that the international instruments on human rights mentioned above, that is, the Declaration, the International Convention and the Inter-American Convention, contain definitions of enforced disappearance that are substantially similar. The definition contained in the Rome Statute differs from those contained in the international instruments on human rights indicated above, inasmuch as the definition of enforced disappearance provided by the Rome Statute includes (a) political groups as potential perpetrators of the crime, even if they do not act on behalf of, or with the support, direct or indirect, consent or acquiescence of the Government, and (b) the intention of removing the victim from the protection of the law for a prolonged period of time, as an element of the crime.

“The Working Group deems that it should construe the definition provided by the Declaration, in a way that is most conducive to the protection of all persons from enforced disappearance.

“Based on the foregoing, the Working Group has decided to issue the following general comment:

“General comment

“1. With respect to the perpetrators of the crime, the Working Group has clearly established that, for purposes of its work, enforced disappearances are only considered as such when the act in question is perpetrated by State actors or by private individuals or organized groups (e.g. paramilitary groups) acting on behalf of, or with the support, direct or indirect, consent or acquiescence of the Government.

“2. The Working Group concurs with the provisions of article 3 of the International Convention, in connection with the fact that States shall take appropriate measures to investigate acts comparable to enforced disappearances committed by persons or groups of persons acting without the authorization, support or acquiescence of the State and to bring those responsible to justice.

“3. The Working Group has stated, in its general comment on article 4 of the Declaration that, although States are not bound to follow strictly the definition contained in the Declaration in their criminal codes, they shall ensure that the act of enforced disappearance is defined in a way that clearly distinguishes it from related offences such as abduction and kidnapping.

“4. Based on the foregoing, the Working Group does not admit cases regarding acts which are similar to enforced disappearances when they are attributed to persons or groups not acting on behalf of, or with the support, direct or indirect, consent or acquiescence of the Government, such as terrorist or insurgent movements fighting the Government on its own territory, since it considers that it has to strictly adhere to the definition contained in the Declaration.

“5. In accordance with article 1, paragraph 2, of the Declaration, any act of enforced disappearance has the consequence of placing the persons subjected thereto outside the protection of the law. Therefore, the Working Group admits cases of enforced disappearance without requiring that the information whereby a case is reported by a source should demonstrate, or even presume, the intention of the perpetrator to place the victim outside the protection of the law.

“6. In those cases in which the Working Group received reports of enforced disappearances in which the victim had already been found dead, the Working Group, under its methods of work, would not admit the case for transmission to the respective Government, since it would be a case clarified ab initio. Indeed, under its methods of work, clarification occurs when the whereabouts of the disappeared persons are clearly established irrespective of whether the person is alive or dead. However, this does not mean that such cases would not fall within the definition of enforced disappearance included in the Declaration, if the deprivation of liberty took place (a) against the will of the person concerned; (b) with involvement of government officials, at least indirectly, by acquiescence; and (c) State officials thereafter refused to acknowledge the act or to disclose the fate or whereabouts of the person concerned. That is to say, in accordance with the mandate of the Working Group related to monitoring the implementation of the Declaration, such reports may be transmitted to the Governments in question under the method of ‘general allegations’, but not as an ‘urgent appeal’, nor under the ‘normal procedure’, as such terms are used in the Working Group’s methods of work. Under the general allegations method, the Working Group would invite the Governments concerned to comment on the measures that should be taken under the Declaration to investigate such cases, to bring the perpetrators to justice, to satisfy the right to adequate compensation, as well as regarding measures to stop and prevent enforced disappearances.

“7. Under the definition of enforced disappearance contained in the Declaration, the criminal offence in question starts with an arrest, detention or abduction against the will of the victim, which means that the enforced disappearance may be initiated by an illegal detention or by an initially legal arrest or detention. That is to say, the protection of a victim from enforced disappearance must be effective upon the act of deprivation of liberty, whatever form such deprivation of liberty takes, and not be limited to cases of illegitimate deprivations of liberty.

“8. Even though the Working Group, in its general comment on article 10 of the Declaration, has said that any detention that is unduly prolonged constitutes a violation of the Declaration, this does not mean that any short-term detention is permitted by the Declaration, since the Working Group immediately clarifies that a detention where the detainee is not charged so that he can be brought before a court, is a violation of the Declaration.

“9. As the Working Group stated in the same general comment, administrative or pre-trial detention is not per se a violation of international law or of the Declaration. However, if a detention, even short-term, is followed by an extrajudicial execution, such detention cannot be considered of administrative or pre-trial nature under article 10 of the Declaration, but rather as a condition where the immediate consequence is the placement of the detainee beyond the protection of the law. The Working Group considers that when the dead body of the victim is found mutilated or with clear signs of having been tortured or with the arms or legs tied, those circumstances clearly show that the detention was not immediately followed by an execution, but that the deprivation of liberty had some duration, even of at least a few hours or days. A situation of such nature, not only constitutes a violation to the right not to be disappeared, but also to the right not to be subjected to torture, to the right to recognition as a person before the law and to the right to life, as provided under article 1, paragraph 2, of the Declaration.

“10. Therefore, a detention followed by an extrajudicial execution, as described in the preceding paragraph, is an enforced disappearance proper, as long as such detention or deprivation of liberty was carried out by governmental agents of whatever branch or level, or by organized groups or private individuals acting on behalf of, or with the support, direct or indirect, consent or acquiescence of the Government, and, subsequent to the detention, or even after the execution was carried out, State officials refuse to disclose the fate or whereabouts of the persons concerned or refuse to acknowledge the act having been perpetrated at all.”

Urgent action

28. Seven cases were sent to the Government of Algeria under the urgent action procedure. One case concerned Zaoui Abdelkader who was allegedly arrested at his home, on 6 December 2006, by eight officers from the judiciary police. The six other cases occurred in 2007. Abdelghani Kennab was last seen entering the Dean's Office at Constantine University. It is believed that the Department of Investigation and Security Services is responsible for his disappearance. Abdelaziz Zoubida was arrested at Zouaghi Slimane II University Town in Constantine, reportedly by two agents from the Department of Investigation and Security Services. According to the information received, Mohamed Boucekkine was arrested at his home by officers from the Department of Investigation and Security Services. The last case concerned Fethi Hamaddouche, who was last seen at the Department of Investigation and Security Services Barracks in Algiers. Two other cases reportedly took place in Algiers; Mohamed Rahmouni was allegedly arrested by the police and Mohamed Fatmia was reportedly arrested by agents from the judicial police.

Standard cases

29. The Working Group transmitted 326 newly reported cases of disappearance that allegedly occurred in the 1990s, mainly between 1993 and 1997. Two cases concern disappearances which allegedly took place in 2006. The majority of the cases occurred in Algiers and in the Jijel Province, while others took place in Ben Acknoun, Sidi M'hammed, Oran, Tipaza, and Blida Provinces. The Police, the Military, and the Security Forces are believed to be responsible for the majority of the cases.

Information from the Government

30. Three communications were received from the Government of Algeria, dated 26 June 2007, 11 July 2007 and 23 July 2007. The information dated 26 June 2007 concerned one case transmitted under the urgent action procedure. The Government informed the Working Group that the case had been transmitted to the competent authorities for their examination. No other information was received regarding outstanding cases.

Information from sources

31. The Working Group received new information from sources on two cases which had been sent to the Government under the urgent action procedure. Regarding the disappearances of Zaoui Abdelkader and Abdelaziz Zoubida, the source informed of the location where they are being imprisoned.

32. The Working Group also received new information from the source on the case of Mohamed Boucekine, which reportedly took place in June 2007. The source was able to visit the subject in prison.

Clarifications

33. Based on information provided by sources, the Working Group decided to clarify three cases.

Prompt intervention

34. On 4 September 2007, a prompt intervention letter was sent by the Working Group to the Government of Algeria regarding alleged threats and acts of intimidation against the relatives of a disappeared person. The family of Mohamed Rahmouni (subject of an urgent action in August 2007) was asked to explain to the police the measures taken to find the fate or whereabouts of their son, and told not to take further action. No response was received from the Government regarding this letter.

Request for a visit

35. On 25 August 2000, the Working Group first transmitted a request for an invitation to the Government of Algeria. The Working Group has since sent several reminders of this request but has not yet received a reply.

Total cases transmitted, clarified and outstanding

36. In previous years and during the year under review, the Working Group has transmitted 1,973 cases to the Government; of those, 9 cases have been clarified on the basis of information provided by the Government, 12 cases have been clarified on the basis of information provided by the source, and 1,952 cases remain outstanding.

Observations

37. The Working Group expresses increasing concern that during the period under review, seven urgent actions were sent to the Government.
38. The Working Group expresses deep concern that little progress has been made in clarifying cases of disappearance in Algeria. Additional cases arising from the 1990s continue to be received by the Working Group and are being transmitted to the Government of Algeria.

Information from sources

General allegation

85. In two communications, dated 6 October 2006 and 13 March 2007, the Government of Colombia responded to the Working Group's general allegation from 2006 regarding the Justice and Peace Law.

86. In the communication of 6 October 2006, the Government stated:

“Through Act No. 975 of 2005, known as the Justice and Peace Act, adopted by the Congress of the Republic, an effort is being made to facilitate the peace processes with the illegal armed groups, and the reintegration of their members, guaranteeing above all the rights of victims to truth, justice and reparation.

“From the time of its conception, this act was viewed as an instrument to facilitate the attainment of peace and national reconciliation. The National Government is convinced that national peace is a desire that has transcended political parties and governments, but also that it cannot be attained to the detriment of the rights of the victims of violence. Article 2 of Act No. 975 clearly provides that the interpretation and enforcement of the Act must necessarily be effected in the light of the provisions of the Constitution, and of the international treaties ratified by Colombia.

“In addition, the Constitutional Court, which is the highest Colombian Court and responsible for monitoring the conformity of laws with the Constitution, handed down a ruling, by decision C-370/06 of 18 May 2006 on a number of unconstitutionality suits brought against the Justice and Peace Act. In this decision, the Court limited the scope of a number of articles to the benefit of the victims, protecting first and foremost their right to truth, justice and reparation.”

87. In the communication of 13 March 2007, the Government stated that:

“The information submitted to the Working Group concerning the observance of the Declaration on the Protection of All Persons from Enforced Disappearances, which contains a number of provisions on this subject, is not correct since although the Declaration is not a legally binding instrument, Colombia has incorporated the principles contained in the Declaration into its domestic law.

“The Government of Colombia reiterates that the Justice and Peace Act is not a law on special amnesty or pardon. On the contrary, it is the first law in the world that, in order to ensure the rights to peace and justice, establishes an alternative punishment to the ordinary punishment provided for in the Criminal Code currently in force.

“The Government of Colombia informs that institutions have been established in which victims of enforced disappearance can receive assistance and participate; these include the National Commission to Search for Missing Persons and the National Compensation and Reconciliation Commission, whose activities support the National Plan to Search for Missing Persons, which allows victims to participate in the search for and identification of family members and in the identification and punishment of those responsible, as tools to supplement the judicial framework of the Justice and Peace Act and the Government’s human rights policy.”

88. Information was submitted by NGOs to the Working Group concerning obstacles allegedly encountered in the implementation of the Declaration by the Government of Colombia. This information was transmitted to the Government.

89. In July 2005, the Colombian Congress reportedly approved Law 975 on “justice and peace”. NGOs alleged that this law suffered from substantial deficiencies that hampered the possibility for the victims to achieve justice. Due to the petitions filed against Law 975, the Constitutional Court declared the unconstitutionality or conditioned constitutionality of several key provisions of this law through ruling C-370. The Working Group has been informed that, through decrees, the Government has reportedly modified the content of the ruling C-370, substantially affecting the rights of victims acknowledged within.

90. NGOs also alleged that, according to Colombian legislation, many of the norms contained in the decrees are illegal, since the Government does not have the competence to issue them, but rather, they are the competence of Congress or judges. For this reason, these norms have been filed under administrative contentious proceedings by a large number of Colombian persons and organizations. However, it has been reported that, while the legal decisions concerning these proceedings may take years, the norms contained in the decrees are being applied to the processes before Law 975.

91. No reply was received from the Government regarding this general allegation.

Total case transmitted, clarified and outstanding

92. In previous years and during the period under review, the Working Group has transmitted 1,225 cases to the Government; of those, 67 cases have been clarified on the basis of information provided by the source, 201 cases have been clarified on the basis of information provided by the Government and 957 cases remain outstanding.

Observations

93. The Working Group notes with satisfaction that, unlike in previous years, only one newly reported case was received by the Working Group. The Working Group hopes that this is a trend that shows that disappearances are no longer occurring in Colombia, rather than being the effect of the phenomenon of underreporting noted in the report of the country visit in 2005.

94. The Working Group expresses concern about allegations regarding the issuances of decrees that are diluting the effects of the Constitutional Court's decision on certain provisions of the Justice and Peace Law.

95. The Working Group wishes to reaffirm the importance that the Declaration has had as an important precedent for the development of instruments of international human rights law regarding enforced disappearances, such as the Inter-American Convention on the Forced Disappearance of Persons and the International Convention for the Protection of All Persons from Enforced Disappearance.

96. The Working Group reiterates its request to the Government of Colombia to take effective measures to clarify outstanding cases and to implement the recommendations contained in the report of the Working Group issued after its country visit. The Working Group again invites the Government to submit a report on the measures taken to implement the recommendations.

In the report, 27 officers of the State Army, the National Police and State Intelligence were implicated in the above-mentioned disappearances. No response was received from the Government regarding this general allegation.

Urgent actions

267. The Working Group transmitted two cases under its urgent action procedure to the Government of Pakistan. One case concerned Muhammad Kazim Bugti, who was allegedly arrested on 29 November 2006. It is believed that Military Intelligence agencies are responsible for his disappearance. In another case, Ghulam Mohammad Baloch, president of Baloch National Movement, was taken away from a football club by the police in December 2006.

<sup>6</sup> See annex V for the list of names of the newly reported cases of disappeared persons.

Standard cases

268. The Working Group transmitted to the Government 29 cases under its standard procedure. The majority of these cases reportedly took place in Karachi between June 2005 and September 2006. It is believed that the police and intelligence agencies are responsible for most of these cases.

Information from the Government

269. The Working Group received three communications from the Government dated 22 December 2006, 11 and 16 July 2007. In the first communication, the Government sent information concerning 10 outstanding cases. In one case, the Working Group found that the response did not contain sufficient information to clarify the fate or whereabouts of the disappeared persons. For nine cases, the Working Group decided to apply the six-month rule. The majority of the responses stated that the victims had been released. In one case, the victim's body was given to his family for burial; one family received compensation from the Government for his disappearance; and one man left the country.

270. In a communication dated 16 July 2007, the Government replied on one case which had been previously clarified by the source. The Government reported that the Pakistani authorities had confirmed that he was living at his residence.

Information from sources

271. The Working Group received new information from the sources on two cases, stating that the victims had been released and handed over to their families.

Clarifications

272. Based on information received from the Government, the Working Group decided to clarify 14 cases following the expiration of the six-month rule. In most cases, the current addresses of the subjects were provided. Two cases were clarified based on information provided by the sources.

General allegation

273. Information was submitted by NGOs to the Working Group concerning obstacles reportedly encountered in the implementation of the Declaration. This information was transmitted to the Government.

274. According to reports, the higher courts are unable to trace the whereabouts of disappeared persons, since they lack the power to search places of detention controlled by the military. It is also alleged that the right to habeas corpus has been systematically undermined, and in some cases, the courts have ordered that the disappeared persons be produced before the courts, but these orders have reportedly been ignored by the military. In addition, those released are warned not to speak publicly about their experiences in detention. No response was received from the Government regarding this general allegation.

275. The Working Group received reports referring to the state of emergency and the potential obstacles that this situation could pose for the implementation of the Declaration. A summary of the general allegation was sent to the Government after the eighty-third session and will be included in the 2008 annual report, as well as any comments received by the Government.

Total cases transmitted, clarified and outstanding

276. In previous years and during the year under review, the Working Group has transmitted 116 cases to the Government; of those, 6 cases have been clarified on the basis of information provided by the source and 18 cases have been clarified on the basis of information provided by the Government. There are eight cases under the six-month rule for which the time limit has been temporarily suspended by decision of the Working Group. For two cases, the Working Group decided to suspend the six-month rule. A total of 92 cases remain outstanding.

Observations

277. The Working Group expresses concern over the fact that during the period under review, it received reports on 32 recent cases.

278. On the other hand, the Working Group notes that 14 outstanding cases were clarified, and thanks the Government for its cooperation.

279. The Working Group wishes to remind the Government that, under article 7 of the Declaration, no circumstances whatsoever may be invoked to justify enforced disappearances.

Information from the Government

280. The Working Group reviewed a communication from the Government dated 21 December 2006. However, the Working Group decided that the information submitted was insufficient to clarify the outstanding cases.

281. In October 2007, the Working Group received a seven-page communication from the Government. In this communication, the Government provided information on the actions implemented regarding the issue of enforced disappearances in Peru. Mention was made of the Amnesty Law, and the fact that the Peruvian State acknowledged that the Amnesty Law lacked legal effect, and constituted an obstacle for the investigation and punishment of those responsible for the violation of the right to justice and truth. Reference was also made to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission, to the National Council for Reparations, and to the High-level Cross-Sector Commission in charge of following up on State actions and policies regarding peace, collective reparation and national reconciliation. The communication further referred to Law 28413 on enforced disappearances, which aims at providing family members of victims of enforced disappearance from 1980 to 2000 with the necessary tools for their rights to be acknowledged. In connection with this, the Ombudsman Office may provide the families of the victims with a certificate of absence through enforced disappearance, which enables the family to start pertinent procedures and acknowledges the status of the disappeared person. The Working Group was also informed that during 2004 and 2005, Provincial Prosecutor Offices, Courts and a National Criminal Division were created for the investigation and prosecution of human rights violations, including enforced disappearances.

Information from sources

282. No information was received from sources regarding outstanding cases.

General allegation

283. In 2006, information was submitted by NGOs to the Working Group concerning obstacles allegedly encountered in the implementation of the Declaration by the Government of Peru. This information was transmitted to the Government.

284. In a communication dated 21 December 2006, the Government of Peru responded to the Working Group's general allegation described in the 2006 report (A/HRC/4/41).

285. The Government stated:

“Since the current Minister of Defence was appointed in July 2006, he has ordered the armed forces to provide as much assistance and information as possible to judges and prosecutors in order to clarify any acts in which its personnel may have been involved, and this order is being complied with fully.

“Despite these efforts, it has been impossible in some cases to provide the information requested, because there is no record of the circumstances surrounding the acts in question.

“The use of pseudonyms by armed forces personnel who served in counter-subversion bases is one reason for this. The armed forces have no records of these pseudonyms, as these were a protection mechanism used by all personnel over short periods while undertaking missions. Furthermore, it has been found that the same pseudonym has been used by more than one person. In the case of personnel who served in counter-subversion bases, the only information that can be provided is that which appears in the personnel records of combat units (which were each responsible for several bases), as the appointment to serve in such a base was made verbally.

“Personnel served in each base for short periods and were then moved to other bases under the responsibility of the combat unit, so that it is impossible to determine at which time they were in each base.

“The Ministry of Defence is working hard to improve its information system, thus demonstrating its commitment to work with the Peruvian justice system to clarify alleged violations of human rights in Peru.”

Total cases transmitted, clarified and outstanding

286. In previous years and during the period under review, the Working Group has transmitted a total of 3,006 cases to the Government; of those, 385 cases have been clarified on the basis of information provided by the source, 253 cases have been clarified on the basis of information provided by the Government and 2,368 cases remain outstanding.

Observations

287. The Working Group welcomes and appreciates the information provided by the Government in the communication received in October 2007, which describes measures that constitute the implementation of some of the provisions of the Declaration. The Working Group encourages the Government to provide information on the fate or whereabouts of the victims that could lead to the clarification of the 2,368 outstanding cases.

Urgent actions

288. The Working Group transmitted three cases under its urgent action procedure to the Government of the Philippines. Abner Hizarsa was arrested on 21 March 2007, and it is believed that the 24th Infantry Battalion of the Philippine Army is responsible for his disappearance. In another case, two human rights defenders, Maria Luisa Dominado and Leonido Arado, were allegedly shot at and taken away by the Philippine Army.

Standard cases

289. The Working Group transmitted 13 newly reported cases of disappearance in the Philippines. One case concerned two men who were reportedly arrested and taken to a military Camp. One case involved two brothers who were reportedly arrested and detained at a military Camp. In three separate cases, three men were arrested by the Philippine Army. Two cases concern a couple who reportedly disappeared on 26 October 2006 in General Santos City. Another case concerns a man who was arrested while he was travelling to San Mateo. The fourth case concerns a man, who was arrested in Cagayan de Oro City. The last case concerns a man who was arrested in April 2007 in Quezon City.

Information from the Government

290. The Government of the Philippines sent five communications to the Working Group. In a communication dated 8 November 2006, regarding efforts undertaken by the Government to implement the recommendations made following the visit to the Philippines by the Working Group in 1991, the Government addressed some of the recommendations, particularly with regards to separating the national police from the army, creating legislation to narrow powers of arrest, facilitating the search for missing persons, and witness protection.

291. In a communication dated 16 January 2007, the Government reported on the investigation of one case. The Working Group found that the response did not contain sufficient information to clarify the fate or whereabouts of the disappeared person.

292. On 3 April 2007, the Government reported on the investigation of two cases, stating that the victims were safe and in good condition, and that one of them was temporarily staying and helping at the Philippine Army Camp. For these two cases, the Working Group decided to apply the six-month rule.

293. In the two communications dated 30 May 2007 and 7 June 2007, the Government responded saying that investigations were being carried out by the police with regards to three cases of disappearances. The Working Group considered that the information received was not sufficient to clarify the cases.

Information from sources

294. The Working Group received new information from a source regarding three cases. Concerning two cases, the source reported that the victims had escaped their captors and had found sanctuary. In a third case, the subject's body was never found and the case was resolved by the Ombudsman as unlawful arrest and violation of domicile.

Clarification

295. Two cases were clarified based on information provided by the sources.

General allegation

296. Information was submitted by NGOs to the Working Group concerning obstacles reportedly encountered in the implementation of the Declaration. This information was transmitted to the Government.

297. According to reports, the absence of an appropriate legal framework on enforced disappearances is denying victims and their families the possibility to seek justice and redress. Reportedly, no government agencies exist to help locate the disappeared, and police authorities have no jurisdiction or lack the capability to investigate the cases of disappearances.

298. When non-governmental organizations try to assist the families of the victims by going to police stations and military camps to inquire about the disappeared, they are reportedly either harassed or not welcomed by the police and the military.

299. No response was received from the Government regarding this general allegation.

Request for a visit

300. On 24 May 2006, the Working Group requested to undertake a mission to the Philippines. No response has been received from the Government.

Total cases transmitted, clarified and outstanding

301. In previous years and during the year under review, the Working Group has transmitted 774 cases to the Government; of those, 35 cases have been clarified on the basis of information provided by the source, 124 cases have been clarified on the basis of information provided by the Government and 615 cases remain outstanding.

Observations

302. The Working Group is deeply concerned about the newly reported cases in the Philippines. The Working Group encourages the Government to take steps to clarify outstanding cases, and reminds the Government of its obligations under the Declaration to prevent and to terminate all acts of enforced disappearance and to prosecute alleged perpetrators.

303. The Working Group express its appreciation for the information submitted by the Government of the Philippines regarding the efforts undertaken to address the recommendations made by the Working Group to the Government following its visit in 1990. The Working Group regrets that the information did not address all recommendations, and welcomes any further information on the pending recommendations.

304. The Working Group reminds the Government of its obligation under article 4 of the Declaration to make all acts of enforced disappearance “offences under criminal law punishable by appropriate penalties which shall take into account their extreme seriousness”, and its obligations under article 13, paragraph 5, of the Declaration, to take steps to ensure that any ill-treatment, intimidation, reprisal or any other form of interference on the occasion of the lodging of a complaint or during the investigation procedure is appropriately punished.

305. The Working Group reaffirms its request to the Government of the Philippines for a country visit aimed at clarifying the 615 outstanding cases.

Urgent actions

306. Two cases were sent to the Government of the Russian Federation under the urgent action procedure. One case concerned Ibragim Gazdiev, an ethnic Ingush who was allegedly arrested in Karabulak by law enforcement officials and members of the Federal Security Service. The other case concerned Abdulaziz Murodullayevich Boymatov, who was allegedly arrested in the District Department of Internal Affairs of the Nizhneserginsk region, Sverdlovsk district of the Russian Federation, by the Uzbek National Security Service and Interior Ministry officials, as well as by Russian police officers from the District Department of Internal Affairs of the Nizhneserginsk region, Sverdlovsk district, and an agent of Sverdlovsk district Federal Migration Service Administration. In accordance with its methods of work, the Working Group sent a copy of this case to the Government of Uzbekistan.

Standard cases

307. The Working Group transmitted one reported case of disappearance to the Government. The case concerns Khatuev Sultan Akhoevich who was reportedly taken from his house by men in military uniforms.

Information from the Government

308. The Working Group received seven communications from the Government of the Russian Federation. In the communications dated 26 July, 16 August, 18 September and 5 December 2006, and 25 May, 14 August and 19 September 2007, the Russian Federation provided additional information on outstanding cases of enforced disappearance. However, the Working Group decided that the information submitted was insufficient to clarify the outstanding cases. The last two communications could not be translated by the United Nations translation services in time for consideration by the Working Group for inclusion in the present report.

Information from sources

309. Information was received from sources regarding two outstanding cases. The source presented many questions to the Working Group regarding the investigations undertaken by the Russian Federation authorities, which were transmitted to the Government. Sources also replied to a case concerning a 34-year-old Armenian citizen, stating that they believe the disappeared is being held in a psychiatric hospital in Chekhov.

General allegation

310. Information was submitted by NGOs to the Working Group concerning obstacles allegedly encountered in the implementation of the Declaration. This information was transmitted to the Government.

311. NGOs alleged that impunity for cases of enforced disappearances in Chechnya continues to prevail. The Working Group was informed that, although the public prosecutor's office has opened investigations in thousands of cases of enforced disappearance, NGOs are aware of only a handful of cases in which a State official has actually been prosecuted, and in no case has a State official been prosecuted for the enforced disappearance itself.

312. No reply was received from the Government regarding this general allegation.

Request for a visit

313. The Working Group proposed September 2007 for a country visit to the Russian Federation, following prior agreement in principle by the Government for the visit. However, the Government transmitted a communication on 6 February 2007, reaffirming its agreement in principle to receive a visit, but stating that the proposed date would no longer be possible; the visit could take place once the review of special procedures mandates was completed by the Human Rights Council.

Total cases transmitted, clarified and outstanding

314. In previous years and during the period under review, the Working Group has transmitted 468 cases to the Government; of those, 10 cases have been clarified on the basis of information provided by the source, 1 case has been clarified on the basis of information provided by the Government, and 457 cases remain outstanding.

Observations

315. The Working Group encourages the Government to respond to its general allegation letter and to take steps to clarify outstanding cases, including the large number of unresolved cases arising from the conflicts in the northern Caucasus. The Working Group reiterates to the Government its obligation under the Declaration to prevent and to terminate all acts of enforced disappearance and to prosecute alleged perpetrators.

316. The Working Group regrets that dates have not been set to visit the country, and would like to receive an invitation, regardless of the Human Rights Council's completion of the review of mandates.

317. The Working Group continues to be concerned about suspension of investigations in disappearance cases and wishes to remind the Government of its obligations to conduct thorough and impartial investigations "for as long as the fate of the victim of enforced disappearance remains unclarified", in accordance with article 13, paragraph 6, of the Declaration.

Discontinuation of cases

320. Over the years, the Working Group has made numerous attempts to contact the source of the one outstanding case, but to no avail. The Working Group decided, in accordance with its methods of work, to discontinue consideration of this case. The Working Group believes that it no longer has a useful role to play in trying to elucidate the whereabouts of the person concerned, as no follow-up can be given to the case. It can be reopened at any time if presented again to the Working Group.

Total cases transmitted, clarified and outstanding

Urgent actions

330. The Working Group sent 37 cases under its urgent action procedure to the Government of Sri Lanka. The majority of these cases concerned males aged between 22 and 56. One case concerned a female victim and one case concerned a 16-year-old male. Eleven cases occurred in Jaffna and 19 in Colombo. The Sri Lankan Army and the Criminal Investigation Department were allegedly responsible for a large number of these cases. Other possible perpetrators include the Sri Lankan security forces, the police, and the Karuna Group.

<sup>8</sup> See annex V for the list of names of the newly reported cases of disappeared persons.

<sup>9</sup> The Working Group determined that 378 outstanding cases were duplications and were subsequently deleted.

Standard cases

331. The Working Group also transmitted 107 cases to the Government under its standard procedure. The majority of the cases took place between January 2006 and April 2007. Most cases concerned males between 20 and 35, although one case concerned a pregnant female, and two cases concerned minors. Seven cases concern humanitarian aid workers, and two concern fishermen. The Sri Lankan Army, the Police and the Criminal Investigation Department were allegedly responsible for most of these cases. The vast majority of cases occurred in Colombo, although several cases of disappearances also occurred in Jaffna, Vavuniya, and Wellawatta.

Information from the Government

332. The Government transmitted two communications to the Working Group. In a communication dated 17 January 2007, the Government requested further information on three outstanding cases in order to launch proper investigations.

333. In a communication dated 26 April 2007, the Government replied on a case regarding a priest who disappeared in August 2006. The Government stated that the case had been placed before the Commission of Inquiry and the International Independent Group of Eminent Persons. In addition, the Government informed that a body presumed to be that of the priest's had been discovered in March 2007, and that arrangements had been made to conduct the necessary forensic examinations.

Information from sources

334. The source provided additional information on two outstanding cases. Concerning one case which reportedly took place in June 2006, the source informed that a police officer approached the subject's family and unofficially acknowledged that the victim had been killed by Security Forces.

Clarifications

335. Following the expiration of the six-month rule, the Working Group decided to clarify the case of a man who disappeared in 1989.

Meetings

336. The Working Group met with representatives of the Government of Sri Lanka in March to discuss outstanding cases and the request for a visit to Sri Lanka.

General allegation

337. Information was submitted by NGOs to the Working Group concerning obstacles reportedly encountered in the implementation of the Declaration. This information was transmitted to the Government.

338. According to the reports, there is a growing culture of impunity for perpetrators of enforced disappearance, as the Government is not taking effective steps to bring rising numbers of disappearances under control. The path to achieving justice for the victims and their families is reportedly long and arduous, with delays and interferences by high officials in investigations and inquiries, as well as threats to witnesses and family members.

339. The Government's announcement that it would invite an international commission to inquire into recent killings, disappearances and abductions in Sri Lanka promised to be a very important initiative. Nevertheless, announcements that the International Independent Group of Eminent Persons would only observe the work of the national Commission of Inquiry cast doubt on whether the International Group will be perceived as credible and independent by all sectors of society.

340. No response was received from the Government regarding this general allegation.

Request for a visit

341. On 16 October 2006, the Working Group requested to undertake a mission to Sri Lanka in early 2007. The Government replied, stating that it would not be possible to schedule a visit for the Working Group during the requested period due to the planned visits of other special procedure mandates, but that the interest of the Working Group would be noted and given due consideration.

342. At the meeting held by the Working Group with representatives of the Government of Sri Lanka during the fourth session of the Human Rights Council, efforts were made to arrange the dates for the visit.

Total cases transmitted, clarified and outstanding

343. In previous years and during the year under review, the Working Group has transmitted 12,463 cases to the Government; of those, 39 cases have been clarified on the basis of information provided by the source, 6,530 cases have been clarified on the basis of information provided by the Government, 378 cases were found to be duplications by the Working Group and were therefore deleted, and 5,516 cases remain outstanding.

Observations

344. The Working Group is gravely concerned at the increase in reported cases of recent enforced disappearances in the country. The Working Group is particularly concerned about the new worrying trend concerning recently reported cases in Colombo, in addition to the cases that have reportedly occurred in Jaffna, which seem to indicate a widespread pattern of disappearances in the country.

345. The Working Group is also concerned that many other cases may be occurring in the country and are not being reported because of fear of reprisals.

346. The Working Group thanks the Government for the reply to its request for a country visit, and looks forward to receiving proposed dates as soon as possible.

347. The Working Group encourages the Government to report on the further implementation of the recommendations emanating from the Working Group visits in 1991, 1992 and 1999.

348. The Working Group reminds the Government of Sri Lanka of its obligations under article 3 of the Declaration to “take effective legislative, administrative, judicial or other measures to prevent and terminate acts of enforced disappearance in any territory under its jurisdiction”.

IV. AREAS OF CONCERN, CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

421. In 2007, the Working Group transmitted 629 newly reported cases of disappearance to 29 Governments, 84 of which allegedly occurred during 2007. The Working Group used the urgent action procedure for 65 of these cases, which allegedly occurred within the three months preceding the receipt of the report by the Working Group. During the reporting period, the Working Group was able to clarify 224 cases of disappearance. The Working Group discontinued 6 cases. The Working Group is grateful for the cooperation received from a number of Governments. Nevertheless, it remains concerned that, of the 78 States with outstanding cases, some Governments (Burundi, Guinea, Israel, Mozambique, Namibia and Seychelles, as well as the Palestinian Authority), have never replied to the Working Group's communications. Some Governments provide responses that do not contain relevant information. The Working Group urges those Governments to fulfil their obligations under the Declaration, the resolutions of the General Assembly, the Commission on Human Rights and its successor, the Human Rights Council. The cooperation of Governments is indispensable to discovering the fate or whereabouts of disappeared persons around the globe.

422. The Working Group is still very concerned about the phenomenon of underreporting. The Working Group considers that cases of disappearances are happening in certain parts of the world, without being reported to the Working Group. This is owing to a variety of reasons, including that in a number of countries, particularly in those which have been through internal armed conflict, national institutions, including the judicial system, as well as security forces have collapsed. The underreporting phenomenon may also be due to conditions of poverty, lack of effective civil society organizations and activities, policies limiting the activities of NGOs, harassment of human rights defenders, prosecutors and judges, families and victims of disappearances. The Working Group strongly urges States to establish solid legal frameworks that guarantee NGOs to undertake their work freely.

423. In various cases, countries that have gone through or are going through a difficult situation of internal disorder or with high rates of criminality, sometimes use the armed forces to undertake police activities, under the excuse that the police forces are incapable of coping with the maintenance of public order. The Working Group is convinced that the duties of the armed forces are different from those of the police force. In a large number of cases of reported disappearances worldwide, the armed forces themselves are reported to be responsible for the disappearances.

424. The Working Group received information from a number of countries indicating that the investigating authorities are themselves part of the military forces. In addition, trials are being held before military tribunals, contrary to article 16, paragraph 2, of the Declaration. The Working Group finds that this does not guarantee the independence of the investigations or the impartiality of the courts, particularly when the presumed perpetrator is part of the military.

425. The Working Group received information that in some cases, investigations were suspended or closed, producing a situation that gives rise to impunity, in contradiction to article 18 of the Declaration. Governments are reminded of their obligations under article 13, paragraph 6, of the Declaration, which provides that investigations should be able to be conducted for as long as the fate of the victim remains unclarified.

426. In the same vein, the Working Group received allegations concerning the enactment or existence of amnesty laws. These laws not only have granted the benefit of grace to presumed perpetrators of grave human rights violations, including disappearances, but also exclude the possibility to conduct investigations that could lead to the fair implementation of justice and the right to truth. On the other hand, the Working Group also received reports on countries where laws of this nature have been declared invalid, an action that the Working Group considers highly commendable.

427. During this year, the Working Group adopted an important general comment intended to give an interpretation of the definition of enforced disappearance that is most conducive to the protection of the victims and their families. One of the issues highlighted by the general comment, which is a main concern to the Working Group, is the practice of short-term disappearances. Under international human rights law, if a detention, even if short-term, is followed by an extrajudicial execution, it is considered an enforced disappearance proper, as long as such deprivation of liberty was carried out by governmental agents or private individuals acting on behalf of, or with the support, direct or indirect, consent or acquiescence of the Government, and, subsequent to the detention, or even after the execution was carried out, the Government refuses to disclose the fate or whereabouts of the victim or refuses to acknowledge the act having been perpetrated at all.

428. The Working Group received reports of the enactment of legislation in a number of countries which weakens guarantees of due process and personal freedom, as part of the strategy against terrorism. The Working Group also received allegations of persons being arrested and kept in secret detention centres, sometimes in a country different from the country where they were arrested, and where they may be allegedly tortured. In many instances, their whereabouts remain unknown for a prolonged period of time. The Working Group reminds Governments to comply with their obligations under the Declaration, particularly with regards to articles 7 (no circumstances whatsoever may be invoked to justify enforced disappearances), 8 (no State shall expel, return (refouler) or extradite a person to another State where there are substantial grounds to believe that s/he would be in danger of enforced disappearance), 9 (right of all persons deprived of their liberty to a prompt and effective judicial remedy), and 10 (any person deprived of liberty shall be held in an officially recognized place of detention, accurate information on the detention and transfer of such persons should be made promptly available to their families and counsel, and an official up-to-date register of detainees must be available in every place of detention).

429. The Working Group reiterates that, in many cases where disappearances arise from conditions of armed conflict not of an international character, the way to an enduring and sustainable solution is for the international community to take concerted action aimed at tackling the root causes that give rise to such internal situations. It is crucial that early warning indicators pointing to the occurrence of or potential for disappearances be monitored with a view to preventing this phenomenon. The Working Group is convinced that well-thought-out policies and actions directed at breaking the vicious cycle of increasing poverty that gives rise to conflict are among the essential preventive measures to consider in this regard.

430. The preventive measures noted above are particularly aimed at democratizing the structures of governance, making human rights the cornerstone of public policy, and empowering civil society organizations to act as watchdogs. Governments should take steps to create and support specific bodies and institutions charged with addressing disappearances.

431. The principles of the Declaration should be disseminated through the mass media for the purpose of public education.

432. These principles, along with all other human rights norms, should be incorporated in the curriculum of the police academies and training programmes of security forces.

433. The Working Group reiterates its encouragement to the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights to promote the Declaration and to include in its programme of technical cooperation the strengthening of national capacities for the prevention and eradication of disappearances.

ANNEXES

Annex I

REVISED METHODS OF WORK OF THE WORKING GROUP (adopted on 30 November 2007)

Mandate

1. The Working Group's methods of work are based on its mandate, as stipulated originally in Commission on Human Rights resolution 20 (XXXVI) and as developed by the Commission in numerous further resolutions. The parameters of its work are laid down in the Charter of the United Nations, the International Bill of Human Rights, Economic and Social Council resolution 1235 (XLI) and the Declaration on the Protection of All Persons from Enforced Disappearance, adopted by the General Assembly in its resolution 47/133 of 18 December 1992 (hereinafter referred to as "the Declaration").

Definition of enforced disappearance

2. As defined in the preambular part of the Declaration, enforced disappearances occur when persons are arrested, detained or abducted against their will or otherwise deprived of their liberty by officials of different branches or levels of Government or by organized groups or private individuals acting on behalf of, or with the support, direct or indirect, consent or acquiescence of the Government, followed by a refusal to disclose the fate or whereabouts of the persons concerned or a refusal to acknowledge the deprivation of their liberty, which places such persons outside the protection of the law. Enforced disappearance has been defined as a crime against humanity in article 7 (1) (i) of the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court.

Basic mandate

3. The basic mandate of the Working Group is humanitarian in nature, aimed at assisting families in determining the fate and whereabouts of their missing relatives who, having disappeared, are placed outside the protection of the law. To this end, the Working Group endeavours to establish a channel of communication between the families and the Governments concerned, with a view to ensuring that sufficiently documented and clearly identified individual cases which families, directly or indirectly, have brought to the Group's attention are investigated with a view to clarifying the fate or whereabouts of the disappeared persons.

The Declaration

4. In addition to its original mandate, the Working Group has been entrusted by the General Assembly, the former Commission on Human Rights and its successor, the Human Rights Council, with various tasks. In particular, the Working Group is to monitor States' compliance with their obligations deriving from the Declaration on the Protection of All Persons from Enforced Disappearance and to provide to Governments assistance in its implementation. States are under an obligation to take effective measures to prevent and terminate acts of enforced disappearance by making them continuing offences under criminal law and establishing civil liability of those responsible. The Declaration also refers to the right to a prompt and effective judicial remedy, as well as unhampered access of national authorities to all places of detention, the right to habeas corpus, the maintenance of centralized registers of all places of detention, the duty to investigate fully all alleged cases of disappearance, the duty to try alleged perpetrators of acts of disappearance before ordinary (not military) courts, the exemption of the criminal offence of acts of enforced disappearances from statutes of limitation, special amnesty laws and similar measures leading to impunity.

5. The Working Group reminds the Governments of these obligations not only in the context of clarifying individual cases but also that of taking action of a more general nature. It draws the attention of Governments and non-governmental organizations to general or specific aspects of the Declaration, it recommends ways of overcoming obstacles to the realization of the Declaration, it discusses with representatives of Governments and non-governmental organizations how to solve specific problems in the light of the Declaration, it assists Governments by carrying out on-the-spot visits, organizing seminars and providing similar advisory services. The Working Group also makes observations on the implementation of the Declaration when the concerned Government has not fulfilled its obligations related to the rights to truth, justice and reparation. The Working Group adopts general comments whenever it considers that a provision of the Declaration requires further clarification or interpretation.

Admissibility of reports on disappearances

6. Reports on disappearances are considered admissible by the Working Group when they originate from the family or friends of the missing person. Such reports may, however, be channelled to the Working Group through representatives of the family, Governments, intergovernmental organizations, non-governmental organizations and other reliable sources. They must be submitted in writing with a clear indication of the identity of the sender; if the source is other than a family member, it must be in a position to follow up with the relatives of the disappeared person concerning his or her fate.

7. The Working Group does not deal with situations of international armed conflict.

Elements for admissibility

8. In order to enable Governments to carry out meaningful investigations, the Working Group provides them with information containing at least a minimum of basic data. In addition, the Working Group constantly urges the senders of reports to furnish as many details as possible concerning the identity of the disappeared person and the circumstances of the disappearance. The Group requires the following minimum elements:

(a) Full name of the missing person and, if possible, age, gender, nationality, and occupation or profession;

(b) Date of disappearance, i.e. day, month and year of arrest or abduction, or day, month and year when the disappeared person was last seen. When the disappeared person was last seen in a detention centre, an approximate indication is sufficient (for example, March or spring 1990);

(c) Place of arrest or abduction, or where the disappeared person was last seen (indication of town or village, at least);

(d) Parties presumed to have carried out the arrest or abduction or to be holding the disappeared person in unacknowledged detention;

(e) Steps taken by the family to determine the fate or whereabouts of the disappeared person, or at least an indication that efforts to resort to domestic remedies were frustrated or have otherwise been inconclusive;

(f) A case should be submitted to the Working Group by a reliable source, which, if other than a family member, must indicate whether the reported victim's family has given their direct consent that this case be submitted to the Working Group on their behalf.

9. If a case is not admitted, the Working Group sends a response to the source indicating that the information received did not fulfil the established requirements, in order to permit the source to provide all relevant information.

Communication with Governments

10. In transmitting cases of disappearance, the Working Group deals exclusively with Governments, basing itself on the principle that Governments must assume responsibility for any violation of human rights on their territory.

Perpetrators

11. The Working Group operates on the basis that, and in accordance with the definition contained in the Preamble of the Declaration, for purposes of its work, enforced disappearances are only considered as such when the act in question is perpetrated by State actors or by private individuals or organized groups (e.g. paramilitary groups) acting on behalf of, or with the support, direct or indirect, consent or acquiescence of the Government. Based on the above, the Working Group does not admit cases when they are attributed to persons or groups not acting on behalf of, or with the support, direct or indirect, consent or acquiescence of the Government, such as terrorist or insurgent movements fighting the Government in its own territory.

Standard procedure

12. Reported cases of disappearances are placed before the Working Group for detailed examination during its sessions. Those which fulfil the requirements outlined above are transmitted, upon the Working Group's specific authorization, to the Governments concerned with the request that they carry out investigations and inform the Working Group about the results. These cases are communicated by letter from the Working Group's Chairperson to the Government concerned through the Permanent Representative to the United Nations Office at Geneva.

13. Any substantive additional information which the sources submit on an outstanding case is placed before the Working Group and, following its approval, transmitted to the Government concerned. If the additional information received amounts to a clarification of the case, the Government is informed immediately without awaiting the Group's next session.

Urgent appeals

14. Cases that have occurred within the three months preceding receipt of the report by the Working Group are transmitted directly to the Minister for Foreign Affairs of the country concerned by the most direct and rapid means. Their transmission can be authorized by the Chairman on the basis of a specific delegation of power given to him by the Working Group. Cases which occurred prior to the three-month limit, but not more than one year before the date of their receipt by the Secretariat, provided that they had some connection with a case which occurred within the three-month period, can be transmitted between sessions by letter, upon authorization by the Chairman. The Working Group provides the source with a copy of the summary of each urgent action, thus helping it to enter into communication with the authorities on the case concerned.

Pregnancy

15. In the case of the disappearance of a pregnant woman, the child presumed to have been born during the mother's captivity should be mentioned in the description of the case of the mother. The child would be treated as a separate case when witnesses reported that the mother had actually given birth to a child during detention.

Situations of vulnerability

16. With respect to reported cases of disappearances, the Working Group highlights the condition of people in situations of vulnerability, including women, children, the elderly, persons with disabilities and other vulnerable groups.

Cases concerning two or more countries

17. Reports on a disappearance indicating that officials from one country are directly responsible for or involved in a disappearance in another country, or cases where officials from more than one country were directly responsible for or involved in the disappearance would be communicated to all Governments concerned. However, the case would only be counted in the statistics of the country in which the person was reportedly arrested, detained, abducted or last seen. The same principles are applied with respect to the transmission of general allegations and prompt interventions.

Government replies

18. All replies received from Governments concerning reports of disappearances are examined by the Working Group and summarized in the Working Group's annual report to the Human Rights Council. Any information given on specific cases is forwarded to the sources of those reports, who are invited to make observations thereon or to provide additional details on the cases.

Reminders

19. The Working Group reminds every Government concerned once a year of the cases which have not yet been clarified and twice a year of all urgent action cases transmitted during the preceding six months for which no clarification has been received. On request, the Working Group provides to the Government concerned or the source, to the extent possible, updated information on specific cases.

Clarification

20. Clarification occurs when the fate or whereabouts of the disappeared persons are clearly established as a result of investigations by the Government, inquiries by non-governmental organizations, fact-finding missions by the Working Group or by human rights personnel from the United Nations or from any other international organization operating in the field, or by the search of the family, irrespective of whether the person is alive or dead.

The six-month rule

21. Any reply of the Government containing detailed information on the fate or whereabouts of the disappeared person is transmitted to the source. If the source does not respond within six months of the date on which the Government's reply was communicated to it, or if it contests the Government's information on grounds which are considered unreasonable by the Working Group, the case is considered clarified and is accordingly listed under the heading "Cases clarified by the Government's response" in the statistical summary of the annual report. If the source contests the Government's information on reasonable grounds, the Government is so informed and invited to comment.

Closed cases

22. The Working Group may consider a case closed when the competent authority specified in the relevant national law pronounces, with the concurrence of the relatives and other interested parties, on the presumption of death of a person reported missing. Presumption of death should at all times respect the right to adequate compensation.

Discontinuation of cases

23. In exceptional circumstances, the Working Group may decide to discontinue the consideration of cases where the families have manifested, freely and indisputably, their desire not to pursue the case any further, or when the source is no longer in existence or is unable to follow up the case and steps taken by the Working Group to establish communication with other sources have proven unsuccessful.

Outstanding cases

24. The Working Group considers cases as outstanding for as long as they have not been clarified, closed or discontinued in accordance with the methods of work. This principle is not affected by changes of Government in a given country nor in the event of State succession.

Reopening of cases

25. If sources provide well-documented information that a case has been considered clarified or closed erroneously, because the Government's reply referred to a different person, does not correspond to the reported situation or has not reached the source within the six-month period referred to above, the Working Group transmits the case to the Government anew, requesting it to comment. In such instances, the case in question is again listed among the outstanding cases and a specific explanation is given in the Working Group's report to the Human Rights Council, describing the above-mentioned errors or discrepancies.

General allegations

26. The Working Group regularly transmits to the Governments concerned a summary of allegations received from relatives of missing persons and non-governmental organizations with regard to obstacles encountered in the implementation of the Declaration in their respective countries, inviting them to comment thereon if they so wish.

Prompt intervention

27. Cases of intimidation, persecution or reprisal against relatives of missing persons, witnesses to disappearances or their families, members of organizations of relatives and other non-governmental organizations, human rights defenders or individuals concerned with disappearances are transmitted to the pertinent Governments, with the appeal that they take steps to protect all the fundamental rights of the persons affected. Cases of that nature, which require prompt intervention, are transmitted directly to the Ministers for Foreign Affairs by the most direct and rapid means. To that end, the Working Group has authorized its Chairperson to transmit such cases between sessions.

Cooperation with other mechanisms

28. If a case or allegation contains information relevant to other thematic mechanisms of the Council, the information is transmitted to the mechanism concerned.

Country missions

29. The Working Group carries out visits to countries on invitation, but also takes the initiative of approaching Governments with a view to carrying out visits to countries, when considered appropriate. Such visits are intended to enhance the dialogue between the authorities most directly concerned, the families or their representatives and the Working Group, and to assist in the clarification of the reported disappearances. The Working Group reports to the Council on its country visits in an addendum to its annual report.

Follow-up

30. With regard to countries in which visits have been carried out, the Working Group periodically reminds the Governments concerned of the observations and recommendations formulated in the respective reports, requesting information on the consideration given to them, and the steps taken for their implementation or the constraints which might have prevented their implementation. The Working Group may also take the initiative to carry out follow-up visits.

Meetings

31. The Working Group meets three times a year to consider the information brought to its attention since its previous session. Its meetings are held in private. However, the Working Group regularly meets with representatives of Governments, non-governmental organizations, family members and witnesses.

Reports

32. The Working Group reports annually to the Human Rights Council on the activities which it has carried out from the end of Council's previous session up until the last day of the Working Group's third annual session. It informs the Council of its communications with Governments and non-governmental organizations, its meetings and missions. Reports on missions are contained as addenda to the main report. The Working Group reports on all cases of disappearance received by the Working Group during the year, on a country by country basis, and on the decision it has taken thereon. It provides the Council with a statistical summary for each country of cases transmitted to the Government, clarifications, and the status of the person concerned on the date of clarification. It includes graphs showing the development of disappearances in countries with more than 100 transmitted cases as of the date of the adoption by the Working Group of its annual report. The Working Group includes conclusions and recommendations in its report and makes observations on the situation of disappearances in individual countries. The Working Group further reports on the implementation of the Declaration and the obstacles encountered therein, and periodically reports on broader issues surrounding the phenomenon of enforced disappearance.

Titles

33. Titles are for reference only and should not be considered as part of the methods of work.
