Committee against Torture

List of issues prior to submission of the third periodic report of Japan, due in 2017*

The Committee against Torture, at its thirty-eighth session (A/62/44, paras. 23 and 24), established an optional procedure which consists in the preparation and adoption of a list of issues to be transmitted to the State party concerned prior to the submission of its periodic report. The replies of the State party to this list of issues will constitute its report under article 19 of the Convention.

Articles 1 and 4

1. With reference to the Committee's previous concluding observations (paras. 7 and 8),<sup>1</sup> please indicate whether the State party has taken any measures: (a) to amend its legislation to include a distinct offence of torture that fully incorporates article 1 of the Convention; and (b) to ensure that acts amounting to torture and ill-treatment are not subject to a statute of limitations.

Article 2<sup>2</sup>

2. With reference to the Committee's previous concluding observations (para. 10), and to the concluding observations of the Human Rights Committee (CCPR/C/JPN/CO/6, para. 18), please provide updated information on the measures taken to abolish or revise the * Adopted by the Committee at its fifty-fourth session (20 April–15 May 2015).

<sup>2</sup> The issues raised under article 2 could also be addressed under other articles of the Convention, including article 16. Paragraph 3 of the Committee's general comment No. 2 (2007) on the implementation of article 2 by States parties reads: "The obligation to prevent torture in article 2 is wide-ranging. The obligations to prevent torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment (hereinafter 'ill-treatment') under article 16, paragraph 1, are indivisible, interdependent and interrelated. The obligation to prevent ill-treatment in practice overlaps with and is largely congruent with the obligation to prevent torture. ... In practice, the definitional threshold between ill-treatment and torture is often not clear." See also chapter V of the same general comment.

Daiyo Kangoku (substitute detention) system in relation to pretrial detention in order to bring it into full compliance with articles 2 and 16 of the Convention.<sup>3</sup> In that regard:

(a) Please include information on the measures taken by the State party to put in place adequate safeguards against torture and ill-treatment of persons held in pretrial detention, including the right to have access to legal aid and to communicate confidentially with a lawyer from the moment of arrest and throughout the interrogation process, and to be presented to a judge promptly following deprivation of liberty;

(b) Please indicate if the State party has taken measures, through the Special Committee of the Legislative Council under the Ministry of Justice or otherwise, to reform the criminal justice system in order to: (i) limit the maximum amount of time that detained persons can be held in police custody; (ii) promote alternatives to detention, including the possibility of release on bail; (iii) ensure that the functions of investigation and detention carried out by the police are separated in practice; and (iv) ensure that persons held in pretrial detention have access to an effective complaints mechanism that prompts independent investigations of any allegations of torture or ill-treatment;

(c) Please indicate any other measures taken to prevent and monitor the implementation of safeguards against torture and ill-treatment, including whether the State party intends to ensure that all interrogations are videotaped;

(d) Please also comment on concerns raised by non-governmental organizations that the Daiyo Kangoku system allegedly continues to encourage the practice of torture and other ill-treatment by police seeking to extract confessions from detained persons in the course of interrogations. Please indicate whether the State party has investigated those allegations and, if so, what the results were.

3. With reference to the Committee's previous concluding observations (para. 16), please provide information on progress made in the establishment of a national human rights institution with a broad mandate that is fully compliant with the Principles relating to the status of national institutions for the promotion and protection of human rights (the Paris Principles).<sup>4</sup>

Please indicate whether the crime of sexual violence can be prosecuted without the requirement of a complaint by the victim.
