Frans Jacobus Viljoen (South Africa)

Professor, Centre for Human Rights, Faculty of Law, University of Pretoria, South Africa

Member, Advisory Committee of the Human Rights Council (2021-2024)

I. Educational qualifications

- LLD (University of Pretoria) (African Human Rights Law) (1998)
- MA (University of Pretoria) (Afrikaans Literature) (1993)
- LLM (University of Cambridge) (first class honours) (1990)
- LLB (University of Pretoria) (1987)
- BLC (University of Pretoria) (1985)

II. Summary of professional skills /expertise

I am an admitted advocate of the High Court of South Africa. I have practical legal experience as a public prosecutor in the magistrates' court and as State Advocate at the then Witwatersrand Division of the Supreme Court of South Africa. I have from time to time engaged with legal practice, including appearing in the country's highest court, and I also worked as advisor to the Centre for the Study of AIDS Paralegal Advice Centre, Hammanskraal, Tshwane.

In my work as academic, I have focused on regional human rights protection, with particular attention to the African Court on Human and Peoples' Rights. I acted as founding academic coordinator of the Master's programme in Human Rights and Democratisation in Africa, introduced in 2000, by the Centre for Human Rights, bringing together students from across Africa for postgraduate studies focused on the African regional human rights system. I am the author of one of the leading texts on the African human rights system, International human rights law in Africa, published by Oxford University Press in 2007 (first edition) and in a reworked and revised edition (2012). I have researched and published numerous articles and chapters in books on the African human rights system generally, and the African Commission and Court on Human and Peoples' Rights, specifically. I have supervised doctoral theses on different aspects of the African human rights system, including: "The impact of the recommendation of the African Commission on Human and Peoples' Rights" (J Biegon); "State compliance with and influence of reparations orders by international human rights tribunals in five selected African states" (V Ayeni); and "The East African Court of Justice: Towards effective protection of human rights in the East African Economic Community" (A Possi). I am the founding editor of the leading journal on human rights in Africa, the African Human Rights Law Journal, and lead the editorial team of the African Human Rights Yearbook/ Annuaire africain des droits de l'homme.

I was the Director of the Centre for Human Rights from 2007 to 2023. In that capacity, I led a number of teams that supported aspects of the mandate of special mechanisms of the African Commission, in particular the Special Rapporteur on the Rights of Women in Africa (through the development of reporting guidelines under the Protocol to the African Charter on the Rights of Women in Africa, and General Comments); and the Special Rapporteur on the Right to Freedom of Expression and Access to Information in Africa (through the development of the Model Law on Access to Information in Africa). I oversaw research and advocacy Units on the rights of children, women, persons with disabilities and on freedom of expression and access to information; and oversaw the introduction of Master's programmes on "Sexual and Reproductive Rights in Africa" and "Disabilities Rights in Africa".

I am still closely involved in Centre activities, including the planning and organising of two international Moot Court Competitions. Since 1992, the Centre for Human Rights organises the African Human Rights Moot Court Competition in partnership with a host university, in a different African country each year. Teams of students argue a hypothetical case before benches of law lecturers and human rights experts as if they were before the real African Court on Human and Peoples' Rights.

In 1999, together with the late Professor Christof Heyns, I conducted a study on the impact of the United Nations human rights treaties on 20 selected countries. At the time of his sad and untimely death earlier this year, we were in the process of completing a follow-up study, to trace the impact in the subsequent 20 years. This study has been completed in 2024 (with Professor Rachel Murray added as co-editor).

III. Summary of relevant work experience

- Public prosecutor, State Advocate, Witwatersrand Division of the Supreme Court of South Africa (South African Department of Justice) (1988-1991)
- Senior Lecturer, Professor, Department of Legal History, Comparative Law and Legal Philosophy, Faculty of Law, University of Pretoria (1991-1998); Professor of International Law, Centre for Human Rights, Faculty of Law, University of Pretoria (1999-present)
- Head of Department, Department of Legal History, Comparative Law and Legal Philosophy, Faculty of Law, University of Pretoria (2000-2003)
- Director, Centre for Human Rights, Faculty of Law, University of Pretoria (2007-2023)
- Visiting professor on the United Nations and African human rights system at the University of Zimbabwe; Essex University, UK; UPEACE, Costa Rica; Addis Ababa University; Abo Akademi, Finland; University of Oxford, UK; Universidade Eduardo Mondlane, Mozambique; American University, Washington, DC, USA; Paris II, France; and University of San Martin, Argentina
- As member of the Advisory Committee of the Human Rights Council (2021-2024), I acted as Rapporteur for the study 'Advancing racial justice and equality by uprooting systemic racism' (2023) – A/HRC/54/70; and as a member of the Drafting Group of the study 'Impact of new technologies intended for climate protection on the enjoyment of human rights' (2023) – A/HRC/54/47. I was also in 2023 elected by the Advisory Committee as African representative on the Working Group on Communications.
